Virginia democrats are banking on carrying the state by 25,000 majority.

The Fargo Argus estimates that one million bushels of grain have been destroyed by the prairie fires.

The revolution in Roumelia is promised to be the first movement in the long expected reorganization of the map of Europe.

The Oregonian says that the real value of wheat in Portland is about $1.17 per bushel though a slight rise on that has been paid in the interior.

Mr. Cleveland's action in refusing to appoint the notorious Morton postmaster at Augusta, Me., in defiance to Mr. Blaine's wishes, is gratifying.

Secretary Tucker's resignation takes effect to-day, and it is with some degree of anxiety that we await the appointment of one of the two named for the position.

The chances for the early admission of the state of Dakota have been materially lessened by the capture of the Sioux Falls convention by prohibitionists, federal suffragists and other cranks.

At the Minnesota state fair, located in the center of the largest wheat growing and flour making region of the world, the princely sum of $2 was offered as a premium for the best bushel of wheat.

The Chicago Current, under its new management, has developed into a sturdy defender of the so-called "buzzard" dollar. The greater part of its space is devoted weekly to fiery denunciations of all who dare not support the silver currency.

Senator Evans respectfully but firmly declined to be the sheep led to the slaughter as a nominee for the governorship of New York. The wily politician has too long been to be caught by such bait, especially when the presidential bee has made a nest in his bonnet.

Alex. Devine, editor of the Billings Herald from the first number to the last, and for several months editor of the Billings Gazette, has retired from newspaper work for the present. Alex. has been a staunch democrat, his paper being one of the three that worked for Jos. K. Toole; and we should like to see him get an office.

Gen. Hazen is having a pleasant time abroad but finds time to write that he much fears the order sending detached service army officers back to their regiments will greatly impair the efficiency of the signal service. One of the officers, by the way is preparing Hazen's annual report while the General enjoys himself in Europe.

Sympathy still continues the cheapest commodity in every market. Riel's counsel complain that they have no difficulty in finding numerous persons who express friendship for the doomed rebel, but discouragingly few that will contribute financial aid toward securing his release. Canadian humanity does not seem to differ materially from the variety we are accustomed to on this side of the border.

A discussion that is likely to prove terminable has sprung up over the attitude of Gen. Grant during the Tilden-Hayes contest of 1876. Mr. Child's having said that Grant frequently expressed his belief of Tilden's election, Col. Fred. Grant comes forward with the assertion that his father was in favor of a new election as the best plan of settling the dispute, but the compromise of the electoral commission made it impossible. Other evidence pro and con is coming forward of a similar nature.

Mr. Ira Davenport, nominated for governor by the New York republicans, is admitted to be a clever gentleman and a thorough republican. But if he is going to win the race he will have to do harder work than any of the previous nominees. Gov. Hill is a popular, tried and capable man, a disciple of Cleveland acceptable to the independents and will be supported by the democrats, including Tammany. Had the republican nominated Farr their chances would have been somewhat brighter, but in any event Hill will continue to administer the executive office of the State of New York.

In Minneapolis last week wheat advanced eight cents, and the scenes on change have been lively, with heavy trading and a rush to the long side. Conservative traders are of the opinion that this high and sudden rise will have the effect of calling out immense quantities of wheat from the farmers who cannot afford to hold much longer; and they expect a reaction soon. There is, however, in our opinion a cogent reason for the sharp advance, as prices during July and August were extremely low, the crop is short, and there is a general inclination on the part of the farmers to hold. The rapid rise in Minneapolis has effected the market the world over, outside of Montana and it is to be hoped that the "boomlet" will soon reach us.

The CHRONICLE has along advised the farmers to hold their wheat for the raise which is surely to come, and come soon. The deficiency of the present wheat harvest in the east is not denied, but the speculators say that the present large stocks in store will be maintained and possibly increased, because the farmer will be unwilling or unable to hold for a month if this be true than why cannot the Gallatin valley farmers hold until they are able to obtain living prices for their grain? Many of our farmer can do so. They are rich in stock, have plenty in store for the winter and in the spring will have made big interest by holding on. We do not believe that the raise will be a tremendously large one, but it will surely be worth waiting for. Wheat prices cannot go lower this year.

The New York Democratic convention met at Saratoga Sept. 24th, and nominated Gov. Hill; Roswell P. Flower was nominated for Lieut. Governor; Frederick Cook, of Rochester, secretary of state; A. P. Chapin, for comptroller; L. J. Fitzgerald, state treasurer; Nathan Street, engineer and surveyor. A resolution was adopted lamenting the death of Gen. Grant. The platform congratulates the people of the union for nominating Grover Cleveland, and commends the wise and statesmanlike tone of his inaugural address; his firm, considerate and conscientious conduct as president, and tendered its hearty approbation of the public policy that has governed his official action. It endorses the application of genuine reform of the civil service, and denounces the present interpretation of that law. "The convention believes that the coinage of the standard silver dollar in the hope of maintaining fixed rates with gold, has gone far enough, and cannot be continued longer without great danger to the business interests of the country. The loss of interest alone in silver dollars stored up in the treasury is over four million dollars per annum, and this accumulation purchased at a cost of $180,000,000 is worth to-day not more than $100,000,000, with every prospect of a further decrease; we therefore demand the repeal of the act under which the compulsory coinage of silver goes on, but we will welcome any practical means of agreement with other nations by which the rates of value between gold and silver may be made less fluctuating, and to this end the first steps must be the stopping of any further compulsory coinage of silver dollars."
